“ Her personality is one where you couldn't forget. She was a extremely loving to each one of her kids Brooke Chelsea and JerOmy. I just was thinking about her recently. Great fun family with some great memories. It's been a honor just to be her friend for a short time..

“ I could not have asked for a better sister, friend and confidant. There are so many great memories that I can look back to and remember her fondly. Her faith in God was amazing and helped her through her journey in life and into death. Most times when Sharon and I would be shopping, complete strangers would come up to her and just share their troubles with her. She always had a kind word for them and a prayer. She took care of her husband with MS and her son Jeromy; even though she herself had many health issues. She showed selfless love to anyone who was open to it and always hoped for the best for others. I will miss my best friend and always remember the love in her eyes for me when she passed.
